Program Monitoring

About Program Monitoring

The program monitoring system provides a post-award case management tool to monitor, oversee, and report on the progress and performance of grant awards and programs.

GrantSolutions leverages the grant award data to capture day-to-day interactions with the grant recipients, schedule and track site visits, document technical assistance, and perform recipient risk assessments. In addition, links are provided for easy access to risk management information from Recipient Data Insights and Federal Financial Reports (SF-425).

A Single Tool for All Your Monitoring Needs

Consolidating the program monitoring information in a one location provides the ability to generate status reports for a single grant award or entire grant program.

A single site offers easy access and just-in-time information to grant monitoring activities and milestones to Program Office staff and managers.

The program monitoring tool can be used to track and manage overarching trends showing where recipients may need technical assistance, site visits, or increased frequency of check-ins.

About GrantSolutions

Workflow Automation

Workflow automation streamlines the processes and repetition that strangles team throughput. This includes providing the framework to manage business logic, rules, and approvals.

> Site Visits often include multiple dates, documentation, and coordination activities that can be difficult to keep track of. Automated reminders make it easy to remember when site visits or assessments are due.

> Notifications are provided when awards are issued, triggering the beginning of the grant award monitoring activities. Additional notifications can be added to assist with tracking upcoming milestones and due dates.
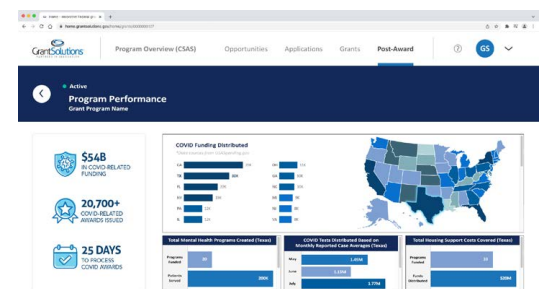

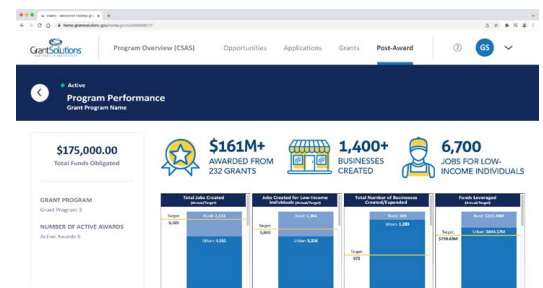

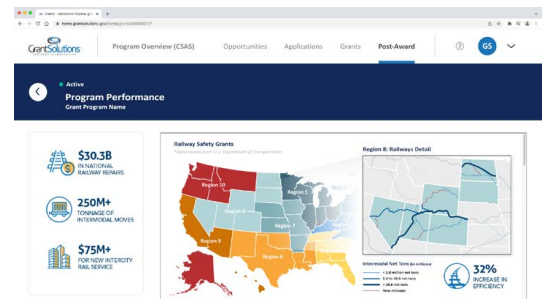

Data Integration

Integration with other systems, services, and data sources is critical. The program monitoring tool pulls up-to-date information into a centralized location, including monitoring data, risk assessments, and integration with award data.

> Streamline processes to reduce the number of systems where your program data is located into a centralized location.

> Integrated services automatically pulls in grant award data and links to Recipient Data Insights, Federal Financial Reports, and Performance Reports.

Advanced Data Analytics

Convert raw data into meaningful and actionable information, knowledge, and insights. Provide management the ability to look at a snapshot of the grant program portfolio and drill down by state, region, grant project, and more.
